

Have a conversation
with your loved ones

critical info.

Use these gentle prompts developed by Critical Info to start meaningful conversations with your loved ones about your wishes, values, and plans for the future.

End-of-life planning is important to me because...

When I was working on my end-of-life plan, I felt...

You'll be sad when I die, but you won't be stressed because...

It might surprise you to learn...

If you ever have to enter my house, it's really important to me that...

I never want anyone to forget this about me...

A medical treatment I'm uncomfortable with is... because...

A tradition or ritual I want to be honoured when I die is...

When I die, the first person you should tell is...

What thoughts do you have about your own death and wishes?

www.criticalinfo.com.au